

Home Is Where the Heart Is Key of D (guitar: dropped D)

(© Marc Hoffman)

Intro chords:

||: D C/D Em/D D :||

Do you FEEL the sun shine warmly on your face

Do you SEE the wind begin to change, do you hear

D/F# G

That very first drop of rain

F#m E7 Bbmaj7 (to top)

Hit a rusty can in a dusty back yard, time to RUN back home.

Bounding up the back stairs, hear the slam of that old screen door

Do you HEAR your mom call out your name,

Do you SENSE the love, do you feel the pain

Of a lonely day she's been trying to fill, making this house a home.

G7 D

CHORUS: They said home is where the heart is

Bb C F

So I looked for a place that felt like home

Bb Am Dm /C /B Bb Am7

That's when I discarded the very things that were my own.

Do you HEAR the laughter, do you WATCH the squabble and pride

Of your brothers and sisters, do they know

What they're looking for lies inside

In a rusty can in a dusty back yard, time to GO back home.(CHORUS)

Do you FEEL the sun shine warmly on your face

Can you HEAR the old songs in your head, can you claim

Your past from a raveling thread

As you weave your way to that dusty back yard

Time to RUN back home.

Yes it's time to GO back home.
